The city council of Paulding have made a decided cut in the salaries of officers. It has passed an ordinance cutting the mayor's salary from $150 per annum to $50. Another cutting the marshal's salary from $200 per annum to $30. Another cutting the solicitor's salary from $75 per annum to $50. Another cutting the street commissioner from $1.50 per day to $1.25, and still another raising the clerk's salary from $15 per annum to $50. This new ordinance names $50 as the salary of the clerk's salary from $100 per annum to $50. While the old ordinance provides for only $15 per annum it has been the custom to make an allowance at the end of the year making it $100 for the year. This new ordinance names $50 as the consideration for the clerk's services and there is to be no allowance.
